

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, September 1. 1702.

From the Brussels Gazette, Dated Aug. 29.

Madrid, Aug. 10.

THE King has conferr'd the charge of Captain-General of the Coasts of Grenada, on Don Gonzalo de Chacon, the Son of the Marquis of Orellano. They write from Barcelona, that the Marquis de Leganez is on his departure from thence to the Court of France. The Regiment commanded by Collonel Trincheria, which is arriv'd at Barcelona from Naples, is order'd to embark for Ceuta: Some Companies are sent to Pennon de los Velez, and to Melilla, to reinforce the Garrisons of those places; and two Catalonian Regiments are march'd to guard the Coasts. The Nobility and the Militia of Galicia are dispos'd along the Coasts of that Province, to oppose any descent from the Enemy, and there is a numerous Garrison put into the Groyne, which is strongly fortify'd and furnish'd with all needful Provisions. They write from Ceuta, that by springing of a Mine they had gain'd some Ground from the Moors, on which they intended to make some Works for the better defence of that place: And that the Son of the King of Morocco was leading an Army against his Father.

From the Leyden Gazette, Dated Aug. 31.

Madrid, Aug. 10. The King has written to the Queen, that he designs to come back out of Italy in October. Cardinal Portocarrero has lost much of the Esteem which he had formerly in this Court. Money is grown very scarce all over the Kingdom, and consequently Interest is at a high rate; since the War and the Interruption of Commerce. This adds to the number of the Malecontents, and 'tis to be apprehended that they will declare themselves openly upon the first opportunity. Since the report of the Confederate Fleet's having appeared on the Coasts of Galicia, most of the richest Inhabitants of Cadiz have retir'd with their best Effects up into the Country, and that place is putting into a fit posture of Defence with the utmost Expedition.

From the Hague Gazette, Dated Aug. 31.

Hamburg, Aug. 28. They write from Sleswick of the 23d. that at length they had receiv'd certain Advice from Cracow of the Death of the Duke of Holstein Gottorp, from some of his Council who attended on him in the Expedition into Poland. The Messenger of this News was stopp'd by the Poles on the 26th of last Month, and kept 3 Weeks, which is the occasion of the Letters coming a long time after their Date. That when the Nobility of Holstein took the Oath of Fidelity to the young Duke of Gottorp, (during whose Minority the Government is put into the Hands of his Mother) a certain person protested against the form of the Oath, alledging, that the Guardianship of the young Duke, and the Administration of that Government, did of right belong to a Prince of the House of Gottorp; and that it is not known who commission'd this person to make this Protest, but it is believ'd that what he did is with the approbation and in the Name of the Council and Nobles of the Country. They write from Breslau of the 16th, that General Fleming who was brought thither to be cured of his Wounds, was on the mending hand; and that General Jourdan was pass'd through that City in his return from the Court of France, to go to the Army of the King of Poland.

From the Harlem Courant, Dated Sept. 2.

Sleswick, Aug. 28. They write from Breslau that, those of the Council who were with the Duke of Holstein in the Swedish Army, are arriv'd there with the Corps of that Prince, under a guard of 1000 Men, which the King of Sweden sends to convoy them into Silesia.

From the Amsterdam Courant, Dated Aug. 31.

Mons, Aug. 25. A Party of the Enemy came into the Neighbourhood of this place, and carried off some Horses and other Booty; upon which our Governour has caus'd several of the Boors to be seiz'd, and put in Prison, for not giving him intelligence of the Enemy's coming: The same Party march'd with their Booty through the little Town of Fontaine l'Eveque, without being oppos'd by the Inhabitants; for which, or for not ringing out their Alarm-Bell at least, to give notice of them to the Garrison of Charleroy; the Governour of that Place has taken the Bailiff and three others of the Town-Officers, and put them likewise under Confinement.

Maestricht, Aug. 16. Baron Lielenroot, Ambassador from the King of Sweden, is arriv'd here from the Hague, and to Morrow will proceed on his Journey to Aix la Chapelle.
